Tim's End of Summer Checklist

1. Summer vacation ends.
2. Kids going back to school.
3. Green Bay Packers try to win back-to-back Superbowls.
4. Graph Expo 2011 kicks off in Chicago September 11!

Much will be written and spoke of in the coming days, weeks and months about what is new and what will come from the largest gathering of our industry in Chicago.

For me one of the greatest benefits of our industry converging on Chicago once a year is to show us how we all fit in this ever changing communication business. While certainly there are a great many trends that we cannot escape there are just as many that we can influence. Speaking with so many of our customers reminds me that we are first and foremost in the service business. Seeing innovating profit making solutions like advanced workflows, direct to technology and the ever improving innovations in Computer-to-Plate reminds me that change is our business.

I look forward to our chance to meet and show you new ways to succeed in print.

"Things are going GREAT!!!!"

I had a question today and called (got a real live person right away! AMAZING in this day and age) AWESOME SERVICE, and I didn't have to wait for hours for someone to get back to me which would hold up my production for the presses.

Your equipment certainly has made my job a lot easier. It's nice to know that there is a company out there that still offers that type of service."
